

Name of the discipline	GLOBAL TRANSFORMATION PROCESSES
Information about the faculties (educational and scientific institutes) and courses of study, students of which are invited to study this discipline	ERI "Karazin Institute of International Relations and Tourism Business", Target audience - 2nd year (4th semester) students of the third (educational and scientific) level of higher education
Contact details of the developers of the work program of the educational discipline, scientific and pedagogical workers involved in teaching	Zaitseva Anna Sergiivna, Doctor of Economics, Professor, Head of the Department of International Economic Relations and Logistics
Prerequisites for studying the discipline	Not required
Description	The purpose of the discipline is to form in third-level higher education students a system of knowledge about modern trends, patterns and challenges of global development, as well as to develop the ability to analyze, interpret and predict the impact of transformation processes on the economy, politics, society and international relations. Expected learning outcomes. The ability to solve complex problems based on a systematic scientific worldview, professional ethics and general cultural outlook The ability to generate new ideas for the development of the theory and practice of international economic relations. The ability to integrate knowledge from different fields, apply a systemic approach and take into account non-economic aspects when solving complex problems of international economic relations and conducting research. The ability to apply modern digital technologies, databases and other electronic resources, specialized software in scientific and educational activities in the field of international economic relations. 13 hours of lectures are planned. Lecture 1. Theoretical and methodological foundations of studying global transformation processes Lecture 2. Globalization of the economy and international financial processes Lecture 3. Social and demographic transformations in the world Lecture 4. Technological transformations and digitalization Lecture 5. Environmental challenges and sustainable development Lecture 6-7. Global politics, international organizations and regionalization 26 hours of seminar classes are planned. Seminars 1-3. Theoretical and methodological foundations of global transformations.

	Seminars 4-5. Globalization of the economy and international financial processes. Seminars 6-7. Social and demographic transformations Seminars 8-9. Technological transformations and digitalization. Seminars 10-11. Environmental challenges and sustainable development Seminars 12-13. Global Politics and International Organizations Forms of Learning Outcomes Control Current control is carried out in the form of practical tasks on course topics, and the final control is carried out in the form of a CREDIT.
--	---